Disclaimer

This website has been compiled with great care and is regularly updated. It is nevertheless possible that things can have changed since information was posted. It cannot thus be guaranteed that the information shown is up-to-date, complete and correct. Also, this website is a community-driven site. Registered accounts may edit wiki entries and fora. As a result, we cannot and do not guarantee the validity of the information found here and are not responsible for the content of wiki and fora entries, comments posted or for anything arising out of use of the above items or other interaction among the users. Consequently no liability can be accepted for any damages arising directly or indirectly as a result of the use of this website, unless such damages are the result of intent or of gross negligence. GIZ/FOSSFA is not responsible for the contents of websites to which hyperlinks exist, unless GIZ/FOSSFA has full knowledge of illegal contents and it is possible to prevent visitors of this site from viewing those pages. Neither can GIZ/FOSSFA accept any liability or give any guarantees for external links.

If you are of the opinion that parts of this website or certain external websites to which links exist in this site contravene existing legislation or contain otherwise inappropriate materials we would ask you to inform us.

Request and Instruction for Community Members

We have equipped this site with a number of tools that allow users to organize and participate in online community activities and engage in an active exchange of knowledge. We request all users to use these tools responsibly and considerately. We ask users to limit their activities and contributions to FOSS related topics, and issues connected to the GIZ and FOSSFA programme ict@innovation and the involved organizations. The administrators of this site reserve the right to edit or delete any submitted content. All content that is offensive or discriminating will be deleted immediately and without explanation or notification.

Data protection

It is important to us that your private sphere is respected when we process personal data. Person-specific data, will not be recorded unless you give this information voluntarily. These personal data will be stored in our internal system and used only for the implementation of the services you registered for. They will not be passed on to third parties. This website contains links to other websites and separate GIZ and FOSSFA programme websites. We refer you to the data protection declaration for each site. GIZ accepts no responsibility for the contents of and the data protection offered by external websites. If you have questions pertaining to the way we use your personal data or wish data to be corrected or deleted, please contact us.
